

The Death of Marilyn: Will We Ever Know What Happened?

New Live Radio Show, Movie, Website and Investigation Delve Into the Mystery Surrounding the Legendary Icon's Passing

Goodnight Marilyn Radio Premieres Live Feb. 13 on VoiceAmerica

LOS ANGELES — DATE, 2015 — For Immediate Release — On August 5, 1962, the world awoke to shocking news: Marilyn Monroe was dead. The circumstances surrounding her death has become one of the most debated conspiracy theories in history. Now, for the first time in radio history, Goodnight Marilyn Radio, a new live program premiering Feb. 13, will start to examine the star's life and death and delve into what really happened that fateful summer night.

From VoiceAmerica Talk Radio and LifeBites Media, Goodnight Marilyn Radio, hosted by media and lifestyle expert Nina Boski, will highlight the icon's life, what really made her star shine so bright, and why she is more popular today than ever. The weekly show will examine the mystery and separate fact from fiction, probable theory from outlandish rumor. Interviews with authors, investigators and experts will help shed light on what really happened to Marilyn.

The show, as well as the website www.goodnightmarilyn.com (going live Feb. 13), will also take listeners behind the scenes of the feature film Goodnight Marilyn as it goes into production. Goodnight, Marilyn introduces a unique perspective on the events of the last three days of Marilyn's life from the point of view of a young fledgling private detective, Lou Morgan. Through his story, we'll see what may have conspired in the days leading up to that tragic night in Brentwood and unfold the mystery surrounding the conspirators potentially involved with her death.

“Goodnight, Marilyn isn’t just another biopic of the late star,” says Todd Shotz, one of the producers of the film. “With over 14 million fans, Marilyn’s spirit is alive and well. We’ve talked to ex-CIA and the ex-LAPD involved at the time, gathered case files, eye-witness accounts and other testimonials. The Kennedys, the mob, old Hollywood ... we’ve got it all.” Drew Ann Rosenberg (Saints and Sinners, Halt and Catch Fire) is set to direct and Dante Spinotti (LA Confidential, X-Men) is Director of Photography.
